

To the FCC:

I plead with you to not lower the standards of our television and radio. There is enough obscenity around. Can our families and children not even feel safe in our own homes? We need your protection and your standards to get even higher. Where is the virtue we are all in need of? Why add something negative to the world when you can add something more positive? What kind of outcome are you going to get by allowing obscene images and foul language to our daily lives? Shouldn't we be worrying about adding strengths and goodness to our media? We need your help to protect our families. With the added worry of what we are going to see and hear can only cause more problems in our lives. We plead as a family to not vote in favor of this change. We depend on your honor and know you will do the right thing.
